Hurricane Relief: Loving Our Neighbors

by David Nakhla

*You shall love your neighbor as yourself.
Luke 10:25-37b (ESV)*

How often do we have occasion to show love to our neighbor – really serve them? Yes, we may provide the cup of sugar needed to complete a recipe or lend them our mower when theirs won't start, but how often do we have opportunity to really come alongside our neighbor in the fashion the Lord described in the story of the Good Samaritan, the parable our Lord used to illustrate what it is to love your neighbor as yourself?

A beautiful aspect of disaster response is that it provides that "Jericho road" opportunity, when we come upon a neighbor in a significant state of need, and they welcome us in to serve them, even with what little we may have to offer.

The updates in this edition of the S.T.O.R.M. Report highlight how neighbors are being served by hurricane relief efforts on various fields.

May I take this opportunity to thank you for your neighborly participation - financially, prayerfully, and physically. May these actions be a reflection of our Savior's ultimate act of neighborly love that He poured out on us!

This edition of the S.T.O.R.M. Reports includes a list of those who have served as volunteers so far. Find the full report at OPCSTM.org/storm-reports/.

Puerto Rico: A Need for Encouragement

"We would like to see individuals and teams visit Puerto Rico to bring encouragement and...point to the true hope found in Jesus Christ as many are wracked with despair over their circumstances..."

Naples: For the Benefit of our Neighbors

"Because of the work that we were able to do on behalf of our neighbors, the reputation of our works of service and our church have risen significantly..."

Key West: Still There and Praising God

"The Lord has already seen fit to use this storm for Pastor Bill Welzien and others to witness to neighbors...our hope continues to be that the Lord would see fit to use this time to call others unto Him..."

Houston: God Continues to Open Doors

"We were able to enter the home of one neighbor to help with drying out her home, which allowed us to pray with her and share our burden for her and the neighborhood. These kinds of conversations happen regularly and God continues to open doors..."
